

Social and Personal

THE Ponce de Leon Hotel, in Roanoke, affords a delightful headquarters for the Richmond delegation to the convention of the State Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, meeting this week in that city. The delegation includes Mrs. N. V. Randolph, Mrs. Thomas S. Bocock, Mrs. B. A. Blenner, Mrs. W. R. Vawter, Miss Betty Ellison, Mrs. J. G. Corley, Mrs. P. J. White, Mrs. D. A. Brown, Mrs. John Telford, Mrs. Nelson Powell, Mrs. T. H. Ellett, Mrs. Eugene Brown, Mrs. John Peggam, Mrs. Charles Redes, Mrs. Charles Massey, Mrs. J. W. Cheatwood and Mrs. D. T. Williams.

Mrs. Andrew J. Montague is spending convalescent week at Hotel Roanoke, and Mrs. Samuel W. Williams is the guest in Roanoke of Mr. C. B. Williams.

Delegates from Chesterfield Chapter, U. D. C., Mrs. Walter T. Allen, Miss Nancy Allen, Mrs. James A. Gregory and Miss Imogen Gregory, are convention guests of Mrs. J. W. Boswell.

Important business sessions of the convention have been charmingly enlivened by a number of social entertainments. The Southern Cross Chapter, U. D. C., of Roanoke, gave a reception from 4 to 6 Wednesday afternoon in the home of Captain T. A. Roberts, to the visiting delegates. Officers of chapters and visitors of prominence receiving were Mrs. R. R. Evans, president of Southern Cross Chapter, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, Mrs. McSherry, Mrs. Nathan D. Eller, Mrs. Samuel J. Evans and Mrs. John W. Sherman. A reception and ball was given last night, in honor of visitors, by the daughters and sons of Confederate Veterans.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone was entertained Wednesday evening at dinner by Mrs. H. V. Gray, of Roanoke. She has been at Blue Ridge Springs, Va., where she has spent her summer for many years during the early autumn season.

In honor of Miss Robinson. A linen shower, given in honor of Miss Rosalie Waller Robinson by Misses Geneva Sandifer and Elizabeth Baker, furnished the occasion for a delightful gathering of the friends of the bride-elect on Tuesday evening.

The decorations of the rooms were in white and yellow festoonings, supplemented by large bunches of goldenrod.

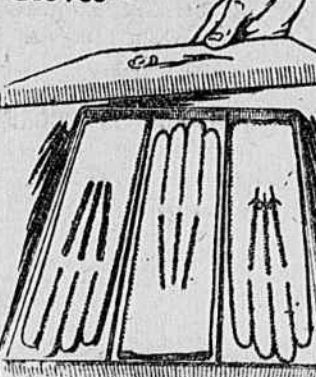

Instrumental music by Miss Keltingham and several songs by little Miss Spilberg added greatly to the entertainment of the evening.

A literary social contest, in which all participants were decided by the judges in favor of the honored guest of the evening, who received an appropriate prize.

Miss Robinson was the subject of a

Married in Old Bruton Church.
Miss Zula Lee Gaddis and John B. Carrington, both of San Antonio, Texas, were married at Bruton Parish Church, in Williamsburg, Monday, September 25, the witness, E. Ruffin Jones, officiating. The groom is one of the Virginia Carringtons, and brought his bride back to the old State for the wedding as a matter of sentiment. He is a son of the late John W. Carrington, formerly of Danville, Va. The bride is a daughter of the late Eugene Franklin Gaddis, formerly of Mississippi, where he was assistant-general of the National Guard and widely known in business. After going to Texas some years ago Mr. Gaddis became the dominant figure in a strong group of San Antonio capitalists, and was at the time of his death president of the Lockwood National Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrington will make their home in San Antonio, Texas.

Clark—Tucker.
The wedding of Miss Evelyn Wright Tucker to R. Cleveland Wright, of Holland, Va., was celebrated at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, October 2, in her home, 611 East Leigh Street, Rev. D. Clay Lilly, of Grace Street Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Decorations were in roses and palms, the bride's sisters, Persia Flournoy and Winnie Davis Tucker, being flower girls. Miss Georgia Tucker, wearing pale blue messaline and carrying pink carnations, was maid of honor. The bride came in with the maid of honor, who was handsomely gowned in blue cloth, worn with a hat to harmonize, and had a bouquet of white carnations, tied with white ribbon.

Wedding gifts were very handsome. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for a Northern wedding trip.

FOREIGN TRADE WITHIN REACH

Government Expert Points Way to Members of National Paint Convention.

SESSION BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Somers, of New York, Elected

President—Boat Trip Down

James To-Day.

American manufacturers have only to systematize and make use of the information freely supplied to them by the government, in order to obtain their rightful share of foreign trade, according to Dr. David A. Skinner, assistant chief of the Bureau of Manufactures, Department of Commerce and Labor, who made the principal address at the concluding session of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association, which ended yesterday the most successful and best attended convention in its history. His general subject was "The Activities of the Bureau of Manufactures and Other Bureaus of the Federal Government With Regard to the Promotion of Trade." Mr. Skinner came from Washington yesterday morning upon the special invitation of the paint men to address them at the convention.

Describes Work.
The speaker described in detail the work of the Bureau of Manufactures in disseminating information in regard to foreign markets by means of the daily consular and trade reports, special monographs, confidential bulletins and circulars, tariff pamphlets, etc. American manufacturers, he stated, have been handicapped by their ignorance of trade conditions in the buying countries and the advantages of shipping their products in such a manner as to insure their arrival in a first-class, marketable condition. Germany and England, he asserted, have secured their pre-eminence in the export trade largely because they have made a scientific study of the prejudices and demands of the buying countries and have reduced to an art the business of correct packing and shipping.

In connection with the foreign markets, he told the paint makers, it is highly desirable that the trade bodies effect a permanent organization to co-operate with the government bureaus which serve products interested. "Without proper organization in this work it will be a comparatively easy matter for our trade rivals to occupy the commercial fields of the world; with it, however, the United States can and will control the commerce of the globe."

The important business of the final session yesterday was the election of officers for the coming year and the selection of the next meeting place. A. S. Somers, of New York, who figured prominently in the debates on trade problems at the convention just closed, was chosen president of the association. The other officers elected were: W. D. Foss, Worcester, Mass., first vice-president; Howard Ething, Chicago, second vice-president; Frank P. Cheesman, New York, secretary, and J. D. Waggoner, Kansas City, treasurer.

It was decided to hold the 1913 convention in New York. This action follows an unwritten law of the Paint Association, which always gives the convention to the city which is the home of the president. The association met last year at Denver and chose a citizen of Denver to head the organization, a circumstance which was about the shifting of the convention to Richmond, a neutral point. Duluth, Minn., put in a bid for the convention, as did also a number of other cities. The Minnesota town distributed an attractive booklet containing Precator Knott's famous speech on Duluth, delivered in the House of Representatives in February, 1911, ridiculing the claims of Duluth as a future gateway of commerce. The pamphlet carries in reply to Mr. Knott's burlesque, Dr. Foster's deliverance upon the "Zenith of the United States," a denunciation which, Duluth boosters say, is altogether appropriate.

Other Trade Reports.
Several other reports of interest chiefly to the trade, were heard at the final business session yesterday. These were the report of a special committee on closer affiliation of associations of the committee on credit and collections, of the committee on credit co-operation, of the window and plate glass committee, of the committee on membership, of the memorial committee, of the committee on dry colors and of the committee on linseed oil.

The last committee recommended that the association go on record as being opposed to the use of linseed oil substitutes as an adulterant in any form, because if those in high standing put the stamp of disapproval on the practice, the results of many years of the best efforts of the best manufacturers will have ended in lasting disorder.

Successful Meeting.
The Richmond convention, as stated by officials of the organization, was the most successful of any ever held by the paint men. The number of delegates was larger than at the convention in Denver last year. More than 300 attended the deliberations of the convention, and of these fully 250 were accredited delegates. A gratifying feature of the Richmond meeting was the unusually large attendance of women, attesting to the attraction of Richmond as a convention point.

The entertainments of the last day consisted of visits to the Confederate Museum, automobile tour of the city and suburbs for the women, and last night at the Jefferson a banquet for the delegates. C. W. Brown, of Pittsburgh, was toastmaster.

A large number of the delegates left the city for their homes last night. Most of them, however, have remained over for the boat trip down the James, which formally ends the Richmond convention. The steamer Pocahontas will leave at 9 o'clock for a trip to Westover and return, arriving in the city on its return trip at 3:30 P. M., in time to permit a number of the visitors to connect with the 4 o'clock trains for Norfolk.

Henderson—Farmer.
Lawyer, Va., October 5.—A beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farmer, on Wednesday morning, the contracting parties being Miss Jennie Taylor Farmer and Arthur Tucker Henderson. Rev. E. H. Hays, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, officiated. Miss Ida Claire Garber was maid of honor, and Eddie B. Farmer, brother of the bride, best man. The other attendants were Miss Rosa Henderson, sister of the groom, and Walter A. Garber, Jr.

They left on a bridal tour to Richmond, Norfolk, Washington and other points of interest. They will be home by October 16.

BISHOP OF NEW DIOCESE INDUCTED INTO OFFICE

Ceremonies at Toledo, O., Witnessed by Dignitaries of Catholic Church.

Toledo, Ohio, October 5.—In the presence of high dignitaries of the Catholic Church, 500 priests of Northwestern Ohio and hundreds of Toledo Catholics, Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs was installed as bishop of the new Toledo Diocese at St. Francis de Sales Church yesterday. Archbishop Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati, presided, and Bishop Henry Richter, of Grand Rapids, Mich., preached the installation sermon. Dr. T. C. O'Reilly, of Cleveland, bade Bishop Schrembs welcome in turning over the diocese to him.

In St. John's College the impressive symbolic ceremony began at 9 o'clock. Assisted by the deacons, the bishop was vested in the episcopal robes, and the ceremony began when he knelt to receive from Dr. J. T. O'Connell, the pastor of St. Francis de Sales, the crucifix.

This impressive ceremony is symbolic of the ancient custom that prevailed when a bishop entered his diocese. As the bishop rose to his feet the male choir of St. Mary's Church sang the "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus."

The priests moved out of the college to the St. Francis de Sales Cathedral. The chancel choir of the cathedral, led by a cross-bearer, formed the escort. The Knights of Columbus acted as a guard.

Next came the long line of clergy, about 250 in number, and following them the bishops, archbishops and monsignori, and lastly Archbishop Moeller.

The Catholic Mutual Benefit Association will hold a reception for the bishop to-night. There will be a civic reception the evening of October 5.

The new Toledo diocese comprises sixteen counties in Northwestern Ohio. The Catholic population of 125,000. The Cleveland diocese was divided a year ago and Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was named as bishop August 9, 1911.

Hughes—Leitch.
Charlottesville, Va., October 5.—The announcement in the Washington papers that a marriage license had been issued to Charles E. Hughes and Miss Lilla R. Leitch, of this city, was a surprise to many who were unaware of the plans of the couple. Miss Leitch was on a visit to relatives in Baltimore and was joined in Washington by Mr. Hughes. The groom is one of the best known business men of the city and is widely known in the city and is widely known in the city and is widely known in the city.
